

DUAL QUALIFIED SCOTTISH AND ENGLISH LAW SOLICITOR

4+ YEARS

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND

London & Cambridge Properties Ltd (LCP) is one of the UK's largest private owners of industrial, retail and office property to let, managing a portfolio in excess of 16 million square feet across the UK.

The group's Scottish portfolio has increased significantly over the past few years to 25 holdings, with a further four investments currently under offer.

LCP and its affiliated companies are now looking for a real estate lawyer to operate from the organisation's newest office in Glasgow. The individual will support the existing legal teams operating from central London and its head office in the West Midlands.

Reporting to the Head of Legal in London, the role will involve handling your own portfolio including landlord and tenant, estate management and development work in relation to properties in both Scotland and England.

You will be proactive in establishing an in-house legal presence in Scotland and supporting the newly created asset management team in Glasgow. Day to day responsibilities will include providing strategic and commercial advice to the business.

A strong commercial real estate background is essential, having trained and qualified in both English and Scottish law with a top UK firm. Excellent drafting and negotiation skills are also essential. Any previous in house experience is beneficial but not essential, additional residential, litigation or planning experience would be welcome.

This role will suit an individual who can work independently, with strong commercial acumen who wants to work closely with the business, who can manage a range of tasks at one time and who can deal with a variety of people at different levels. Excellent interpersonal skills are also essential.

This is an exceptional opportunity for a dual qualified lawyer to join a market leader at a key stage in its expansion into Scotland.
